The Falconer Trust is a small charity based in Watton, Norfolk, which exists in order to support the Falconer Children's Home and Orphanage, which is situated in a remote area of the North Western Province of Zambia. The home provides for around a hundred children and young people, from birth to adulthood.

The Falconer Trust regularly sends out parcels of food, clothing, medicals, toiletries etc, as well as finance. The home receives no financial support from the Zambian government, and very little from other sources, so the work of the Falconer Trust is vital in order to meet the needs of these precious children.
